inspiration

The band draws its inspiration from the Anti-Atlas region, particularly Boumaln Dades, known for its picturesque kasbahs, mountains, and fields. These mountains symbolize both resistance and peace, serving as a significant source of inspiration for the group. They represent a place where ancestors fought to defend their land and culture. As a result, the band's music, known as Anti-Atlas Highlanders Music, and its official logo are deeply influenced by this rugged landscape.

LOCAL INFLUENCE

Agidour N'Ait Aatta

The band's uniform, known as Aqidour n'ait Aatta, is inspired by the region's heritage, specifically the Aït Aata tribe. While maintaining its traditional roots, the uniform has been adapted to reflect a contemporary aesthetic by incorporating designs inspired by Tifinagh calligraphy. Similarly, the band's music combines traditional elements with a modern approach, honoring the rich musical heritage of the region.

The term "Aqidour n'ait Aatta" refers to the descendants of the Aït Aata tribe, who predominantly inhabit the Boumalne Dades region. By choosing this uniform, the band aims to offer a fresh representation of the region's tribal heritage. Special thanks to artist Moha Mallal for his contribution in selecting the group's uniform.

BIOGRAPHY

Tasuta N-Imal, meaning "future generation" in the Amazigh tongue, emerges from the southeastern Anti-Atlas region of Morocco. Originating in the humble village of Slilou in Boumalne Dades, Tinghir region, the band's roots trace back to 2008 when two brothers first joined forces. However, it wasn't until 2014 when all current members reunited that their musical vision truly blossomed.

Driven by a deep commitment to preserving and sharing their cultural heritage, Tasuta N-Imal aims to encapsulate the history, values, and traditions of their homeland through their music. They blend traditional melodies such as Ahidus, Ahwash, Izlan n Tyerza, Tizrarin, Timnadin, and Tagnawit with global influences like rock & roll, blues, pop, and desert rock.

Infusing their compositions with themes of solidarity, love, and peace, Tasuta N-Imal's music serves as a bridge between generations and cultures. Through their passionate dedication, Tasuta N-Imal continues to captivate audiences with the vibrant spirit of the Anti-Atlas.

NEW RELEASE

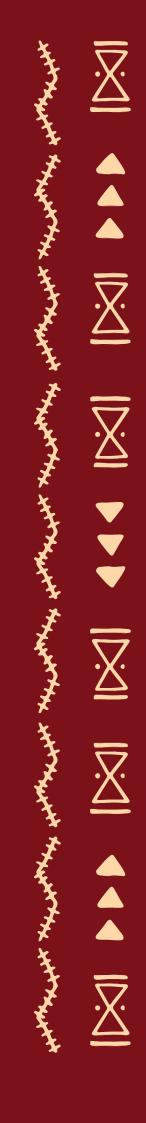

"AGHERBAZ" is a song penned by Baha Mansoub. In Tuareg, "AGHERBAZ" originally referred to a Quranic school but later evolved to denote any form of educational institution, as noted in Mouloud Mammeri's AMAWAL lexicon. The song portrays the parental desire for their child to receive a robust education and high-quality instruction. It articulates the aspiration for the child to undergo an apprenticeship fostering the development of their personality, identity, and personal growth. Such an education is envisioned to enhance the child's quality of life on both emotional and material levels. Essentially, the song expresses the wish for the child to attend a school where they feel accepted and empowered to discern truth from falsehood.
